

Be Beautiful with Theravine

A TheraVine facial feels like an elixir. It takes a single application to completely change your mood, nourish your skin and unwind after a long day. The secret is in the key ingredients. Using vine-ripened grape extracts with miraculous medicinal qualities, this remarkable range has a glowing reputation.

Vinotherapy is an age-old process where grape extracts are rubbed softly into the skin leaving it refreshed and revitalised. This highly effective treatment is what drove Lisa and Shane Smit to create the perfect product. What emerged, after fifteen years of scientific research near the beautiful Stellenbosch Winelands in South Africa, was the TheraVine collection.

New Zealand TheraVine director, Ash Walsh, is no stranger to the beauty industry. London trained at the prestigious Steiner School of Beauty with two successful spa clinics and a post as the senior lecturer at the Beauty College in Harare, Zimbabwe; she has an incredible eighteen years of experience behind her. From her own glowing skin to her ability to give the most relaxing of facials - it's clear she has a passion for the TheraVine range.

The ingredients in TheraVine products have been carefully selected over the years and do not contain any harmful alcohols or chemicals. They range from soft hydrating creams and AcniVine ranges that target problem skin conditions to scientific non-invasive alternatives to cosmetic procedures such as anti wrinkle creams that improve cell regeneration, collagen boosting creams and the Sculpt-o-Vine range designed to firm and restructure the body.

Used in exclusive day spas and only by the best beauty technicians the demand for TheraVine shows quite simply, how valuable these products really are. Soak in a velvet-soft merlot bath or relax with a fresh, clean and sweetly fragrant face cream. Whatever the product, TheraVine leaves the skin feeling soft and subtle, firm and nourished. The results speak for themselves. ❀
